Remembrance Sunday

Another lovely and quite poignant Landewednack moment last Sunday morning when Florence and Noah laid the poppy wreath on behalf of Landewednack & Little Lizards on an incredibly wet Remembrance Sunday! Well done to them and to Ellie who laid the wreath on behalf on the Rainbows. It was lovely to see many of our children braving the weather too.

All of our/YOUR children are also to be applauded for their fabulous behaviour in the village for Armistice Day on Tuesday morning. We were so proud of how they walked to and from the village, how they listened and then stood in absolute silence at 11am.

Mrs Jones even received a letter from a village resident complimenting the children and saying how wonderful it was to see them all there on such an important day. Barty our nurture and reading dog also joined us as his owner Taz beautifully played 'The Last Post'

A message from our PTFA....

The PTFA are very excited to announce a fabulous new partnership opportunity with The Housel Bay Hotel who have very generously agreed to support us, and our school, with our fundraising efforts this year.

The first occasion of this is running a mince pie making workshop for ALL the students of Landewednack! The head chef will also be coming to Little Lizards to run a separate Christmas cookie baking session with our nursery! What an incredible (and delicious!) experience this will be for the students! We are very grateful to Housel Bay for their willingness and generosity in not only leading these workshops but fully funding the supplies.

The mince pie workshops will take place on Tuesday the 2nd and Wednesday the 3rd of December during the school day. Housel Bay will be putting the mince pies up for sale at the hotel on the Wednesday afternoon after school, with all proceeds going to the PTFA so let's go and show our support! It doesn't end there... any leftover mince pies will be sent down to the school to be sold at our Christmas Fayre on Thursday the 4th of December (save the date and keep an eye out for our poster!)

The Little Lizards baking event will take place on Tuesday the 9th of December during the day and the children will be able to bring home their goodies.

Once again, a great big Christmas thank you to The Housel Bay Hotel...we are very much looking forward to these treats!

A message from the PTFA Chair

The annual general meeting of the Landewednack Parent Teacher and Friends Association is to be held in 14 days' time on Thursday the 27th of November by virtual teams meeting. The start time is yet to be confirmed and will be announced in due course.

Any parent with a child currently enrolled at either Landewednack School or Little Lizards nursery is automatically granted membership to the PTFA and therefore invited to the AGM. If you wish to participate in the meeting, please email me, Nikki Rosenberg at landewednackptfa@gmail.com to express your wish to be sent an electronic invite on the day.

An agenda will be available 3 days prior to the meeting. We welcome all voices!

Many thanks

Nikki
